

The Ghost Army frequently established phony headquarters as a part of their deception operations when they took the place of real US Army units. This environment is a recreation of a dummy headquarters for the 119th Infantry Regiment, 30th Infantry Division's headquarters in Dulken, Germany during Operation Viersen in March 1945.

